

hermana^{pr} Lowri Evans

releases new album 'Corner of my eye'
- out 4 November 2013 on Shimi Records -

<http://www.lowrievans.co.uk>

Listen to the album here: <http://snd.sc/1cJFjRM>

Live from the Small World Theatre – Corner of my eye <http://youtu.be/-QLyxtablXk>

On 4 November singer-songwriter and female Welsh Artist of The Year nominee Lowri Evans is to release her new album. Called 'Corner of My Eye', the album will be preceded on 14 October by the release of the record's title track as the album's first single.

"Evans puts her heart and soul into every song, bringing her material vividly to life"
(Rock 'n' Reel Magazine)

Described as a 'Major talent in any language' Lowri, raised under the shadow of the mystical Carningli (Angel Mountain) in North Pembrokeshire is perhaps Wales's best kept secret. Her striking voice is distinctive and powerful, capable of wide emotional range; her songs take their musical colours from a broad palette that includes folk, country, americana and blues, all beautifully knitted together through her innate musicality and heartfelt delivery.

From her first composition at the age of 7 Lowri has followed a musical path which has taken her from her Welsh language roots to studying a degree in Jazz and Pop music, living in Newcastle Upon Tyne to releasing albums in both English and her native Welsh languages. She has appeared at numerous Festivals which include Cambridge Folk Festival, The Green Man, Wychwood, Gate to Southwell Folk, SWN, Village Pump Folk and Celtic Connections, as well as support slots with artists such as Cara Dillon, Martin Simpson, John Renbourn, Jim Moray, Jez Lowe and Richie Havens.

Inspired by a need to return to her more acoustic roots and deliver an album true to herself, the 10 songs are full of love lost and found, hope and despair, anticipation and anguish. "The single 'Corner of my eye' is about how we believe we have all the time in the world to live our lives – we'll always be young and that we are in charge of our own destinies. But time catches up with us, we aren't in control and precious things in our lives can be snatched away from us in an instant. I often catch a glimpse of my grandfather out of the corner of my eye. He died 16 years ago but lives very much in my heart. The smallest things can remind us, and for just a second, we believe we really did see them and that they aren't lost to us" says Lowri of the album's title track.

The album was recorded and produced in various living rooms, bedrooms and sessions at Fflach studio in Cardigan West Wales by Lee Mason and Lowri Evans. Accordion player Andy Cutting and renowned acoustic and slide guitarist Martin Simpson, both BBC Radio 2 Folk Award Best Musician Winners feature, contributing to 6 songs on the album.

Autumn UK tour dates:

Saturday September 7th Seend Acoustic Festival

Sunday September 8th Swndeilo Festival, Llandeilo

Saturday September 21st Glooston Village Hall, Leicestershire

October 17-20th SWN Festival, Cardiff

Saturday October 19th Live session on Radio Cardiff

Saturday October 19th Bloomsbury Festival, London

Saturday November 2nd Fishguard Autumn Festival

Friday November 22nd The Senses Festival, Llandeilo

Friday November 29th Rhos y Gilwen - supporting Martin Simpson

For more information please contact Ken, Liv or Ali at Hermana

Hermana PR

44 Church Road, London SE19 2ET, tel: 0208 771 8800

ken@hermana.co.uk liv@hermana.co.uk office@hermana.co.uk

